

Lot	Hammer	Description
285	£4,000.00	A rare 17th century slap soled mule or vamp in blue velvet with silver wire floral scroll embroidery, white kid heel and upper sole with braid stitched heel seam, sole unattached at heel, tooled brown leather liner, 21cm
585	£3,800.00	A good late 19th Century haberdashery cabinet of twenty four drawers, each with a numerical label, gold on black, and a conforming contents label divided by a brass flush fitting handle, moulded plinth base and overhanging top, the drawer titles including 'Hooks and Eyes', 'Silk Reels', 'Colored Cottons', 'Thimbles/ Measures' etc., 136 x 34 x 89cm high
188	£3,300.00	A good mid 17th Century needlework and stumpwork box of rectangular form raised on gilded hexagonal bun feet, the front with a huntsman and dog in pursuit of a stag and flanked by a camel and lion below a sky and sun, the sides and back in stripes of coloured silks depicting stylised flowers, the lid with a lady holding a book in one hand below a floral arbour in raised work amid a lion, a stag, a dog, a rabbit, a country house, flowers, trees and insects, engraved gilt brass latch plate to front, the interior lined in painted paper and compartmentalised to one side, overall in good condition the front sides and back fresh with bright colours, the lid a little faded but bright and fresh in parts, 31 x 24 x 13.5cm
709	£2,900.00	A 17th Century English pike man's armour, comprising breast plate with musket ball proof, with double hinged tassets each of eight 'layers' with rivetted decoration, 73cm high, 50cm max width at base *Invoice from P.M. Norden, undated 'Civil War Pewriod Pikemans breast plate and tassets circa 1645 £180'
726	£2,480.00	Buttons - a fine set of six 18th Century buttons, each painted in tones of white and brown with putti at play and work on a blue ground under glass within brass frames, 4cm dia. (6) *See Epstein (D) and Safro (S) Buttons, Page 42 for a very similar set.
727	£2,250.00	Buttons - a fine set of six Bilston enamel 18th Century buttons, circa. 1775, each depicting a young woman head and shoulders or waist length, in elegant attire against a blue ground within tortoiseshell frames, 3.2cm dia. (6)
686	£2,050.00	An Indo-Portugese table cabinet, late 17th/early 18th Century, India, Gujarat or Sind, each side with floral engraved ivory panels within chequer and line borders the top inset with a central tortoiseshell panel probably a replacement, iron side handles, the fall front internally decorated in the same manner and revealing an arrangement of six drawers, the upper drawer divided as three to the front, original drop handles, 30.5 x 23.5 x 19.5cm *Invoice P.P. Morley Antiques, Kenilworth, 16 December 1972 - £130
227	£1,650.00	A mid 17th Century silk needlework casket, the front with a pair of hinged doors with a male and female figure amid flowers, castles, houses and a tent, below a rectangular hinged section reducing to a box top, the remainder of the exterior divided into geometric panels of coloured silk work, the hinged top section lined in marble paper with six divisions, the lower section with two fitted pin cushions divided by a removable mirror, the doors revealing an arrangement of four drawers in panels of geometric silk, pierced brass escutcheon, metal handle mounts to lid, raised on carved wooden segmented half dome feet, silver braid corners, general wear and dis-colourisation to exterior, 25 x 18 x 29cm.
307	£1,650.00	An attractive late 18th Century sampler in a decorative frame by 'Sarah Bowmar' worked with alphabets and numerals, crowns and a verse, within a garland of flowers in coloured silks, the frame decorated with trailing flowers, some slight colour run, a note on the back 'Moth damage repaired lower corners, 2nd March, 1972, WGW', in glazed frame, 42 x 32cm
279	£1,450.00	A 17th Century needlework purse of near square form, the silver wire stitched ground decorated to each side with variant flowers in petit point in shades of pink and green, the stems in silver chain stitch or braid, twist of silver cord to one corner, 8 x 8.5cm Invoice from Christopher Clarke Antiques Sept 23rd 1976 £37

BLEASDALES

Limited

